the voters of Agawam, as a candidate for your Planning Board. My personal background includes education in the Agawam School System, and residence in Agawam for 22 years. I am a home owner and family man, residing with my wife and children at 141 South St. I am starting my sixth consecutive year as one of your Town Meeting Members. I have fought for and put Agawam first in all decisions I have made.

As an estimator and expeditor in industry, I have no business interests which could conflict with sound decisions for the benefit of the Town.

"As a member of the Planning Board, I would do my best to PLAN in the utmost interest of the Town of Agawam. My number one consideration being the people of the Town, for in reality they are the Town. My decisions will be based upon the overall effects which any proposals

Flag Raising Ceremonies At Post Office Dedication

Dedication services were held for the new Agawam Center Post Office last Saturday afternoon with Postmasters from five communities attending. A new flag was presented to the Post Office by the guest speaker Congressman Edward P. Boland. Color Guards from American Legion Post 185, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1632, D.A.V. Chapter 55 and World War One Barracks, 396 took part in the flag raising ceremonies as pictured above.

MRS. MOORE CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Committee to elect Rita G. Moore to the Agawam School Committee issued the following statement:

"This is the year to make "Agawam First," but even of greater importance will be the constant challenge to "keep" Agawam First. Once attained, the ultimate responsibility for maintaining the highest possible standards of community life will rest with the responsible citizens of tomorrow—our Youth of today.

"It is therefore vital that they receive only the best preparation and training that we can reasonably and judiciously provide; and it is therefore equally vital that the Agawam School Committee be composed of the best qualified members that we voters can reasonably and judiciously provide.

"WE ARE PROUD TO PRESENT FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE MRS. RITA G. MOORE.

"Mrs. Moore's life-long and selfless dedication to the youth of our community, coupled with her unique background in civic and governmental affairs will set forth a distinctive 'woman's point of view' that will insure a non-political, non-self-seeking, non-biased evaluation of the needs of schools and our young people with only one goal—the development and preparation of all of our children through the proper

Topping The Tuna Burger

Teens go for tuna burgers, and they like them all the more when they can top them with a variety of garnishes. Try this delightful tuna burger recipe for a pleasantly spicy treat and let teens top with garnishes of their own choosing. The recipe's so easy teens can make the burgers themselves. Convenient canned tuna is ready to go, straight from the can. Mom likes tuna burgers for her brood because canned tuna is high in complete protein comparable to that found in lean meat.

Tuna Burgers

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup evaporated milk tablespoon each, catchup, 3 slices bread with crusts prepared mustard and removed pickle relish

2 cans (6 $\frac{1}{2}$ or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil

Pour evaporated milk over bread slices in mixing bowl. Add catchup, prepared mustard and pickle relish; mix with fork until blended. Add tuna; mix well. Spoon mixture onto 6 bun halves. Place under broiler heat 8 minutes, or until browned. To serve, top with remaining bun halves.

YIELD: 6 burgers.

THIRD NATIONAL INCOME REPORT

Third National Bank of Hampden County earned $2.15 per share on the 500,000 shares outstanding during the nine months ended Sept. 30, compared with $1.80 per share in the same 1964 period, President Russell B. Neff reported today.

Total operating income in the nine months was $5,448,163, with net operating income before income taxes totaling $1,901,177. Net operating income after provision for income taxes of $824,973 was $1,076,204 or $2.15 per share.

In last year's first three quarters Third National's total operating income was $4,917,782. Net operating income before income taxes was $1,608,589, and after provision for $710,481 in income taxes the net income totaled $898,108 or $1.80 per share.

The Third's total assets on Sept. 30 were $135,150,443, an increase of $3,730,715 over the same date in 1964.

The continued strong demand for loans is indicated by the Sept. 30 loan total of $72,298,948, which represents an increase of $5,331,607 over the year-ago figure of $66,967,341.

Total deposits on Sept. 30 were $116,537,682, an increase over the figure of $114,109,617 a year ago. Capital funds—representing capital stock, surplus and undivided profits—totaled $12,310,345 on Sept. 30, up to $495,872 over Sept. 30, 1964.

"Any change that can destroy the attractions for which people settle in a particular area, may not be worth the so-called advantages or revenue that the change provides. Planning zones are created for a purpose. They are to protect the people, and at the same time, to provide suitable areas for all enterprises. These Planning zones should be maintained for the welfare of all, and not the benefit of a few.

"If you the voters elect me to office, I will, through sound and careful planning, work to encourage both business and residential growth in the Town of Agawam to the best benefit of all. W. S. Co-operative Bank Declares Largest Dividend

WEST SPRINGFIELD — Directors of the West Springfield Co-operative Bank on Monday voted a dividend totaling $165,283 for the quarter ended October 13. Earle C. Harvey, treasurer and executive officer, said this is the largest dividend paid by the bank in any single quarter since it was founded in 1897. The dividend is payable November 10, Mr. Harvey said.

The West Springfield Co-operative Bank official said that the bank's income for the quarter ended October 13 was $225,365, and that the dividend declared by the directors on Monday represents approximately 73 per cent of the income for the quarter.

Mr. Harvey told the directors that total earnings for the past 12 months were a record $893,981, and that the record dividend payout for the year amounts to $646,939, representing 76 per cent of the earnings. West Springfield Co-operative Bank pays dividends four times a year.

The directors voted to continue the present dividend scale: 4 1/2 per cent on serial shares, 4 1/4 per cent on investment accounts and 4 per cent on savings accounts. Mr. Harvey described the serial shares dividend of 4 1/2 per cent as "higher return for those who carry out a regular, systematic program of savings."

Total deposits on October 13 were a record $16,242,074, a gain of $1,051,691 over the $15,190,383 a year ago.

Real estate loans were also at an all-time high of $15,682,000, an increase of $1,169,522 over the year-ago figure.

Total assets on October 13 were $18,376,434, and Mr. Harvey said this figure was "considerably above" last year's assets total. He said savings activity and mortgage demand continue at "high levels."

Onion-butter steak sauce or mushroom gravy will glamorize chopped beef and add delicious flavor. Shape the meat into a large thick patty or loaf, and broil as you would individual hamburgers.

PARSLEY AND ONION BUTTER

1 medium size onion
4 tbsp. parsley, chopped fine
2 tbsp. Lea & Perrins
Worcestershire Sauce
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
5 tbsp. butter

Grate the onion and add the other ingredients. Stir until it becomes a smooth paste. Spread over steak or hamburger immediately after you take it from the broiler. Serve at once.

MUSHROOM SAUCE

1 can (8 oz.) mushrooms
1/2 cup liquor from mushrooms
2 tbsp. butter
2 tbsp. flour
1/2 cup cream
1 tsp. Lea & Perrins
Worcestershire Sauce
Salt & pepper to taste

Drain mushrooms and measure 1/2 cup of the liquor. Chop the mushrooms fine. Melt butter and stir in flour. Add cream and mushroom liquor. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and smooth. Add seasonings and mushrooms. (Makes 1 1/2 cups.)

HOUSEKEEPING HINTS

LITTLE WORK SAVERS ALL 'ROUND THE HOUSE . . .

TO KEEP YOU "FLOWER-FRESH"

ORCHIDS TO THE COOK

WHO NEEDS THESE

HINTS!

To keep parsley fresh and crisp, store it in a covered jar in the refrigerator. Always wash it in hot water for flavor retention.

To peel beets easily, dip them in cold water right after boiling them. Leave an inch of stem on when you cook them or they'll bleed. Stems and skins slip off easily when cooked.

Lemons keep for months if you put them, whole, into sterilized jars; cover with cold water; adjust rubber rings and cover tightly. Give more juice, too!

To peel lemons or oranges easily or to get the peel off in one piece, heat them slightly for 3 or 4 minutes. This also results in more juice, makes them easier to squeeze.

When boiling potatoes, add milk to the water — about 1/4 cup to 2 quarts of water — improves flavor, keeps potatoes white.

Bake potatoes quickly by boiling them first in salted water for 10 minutes, then popping them into a hot oven.

Mashed potatoes improve in texture and taste with addition of a beater egg white. They'll whip up lighter if the milk is hot when you add it, too.

To thicken gravy easily and quickly, put flour in jar with half a cup of cold water or milk; screw cap on tightly and shake until well mixed. Add to hot gravy and stir. Look, ma, no lumps!

No fry pan explosions if you sprinkle a little salt in the pan first before starting to fry food.

Astronauts Have Bathroom In Space

After all the thousands of printed words and hours of radio and television coverage of U.S. manned space shots, probably the most frequently asked question is: What do the astronauts do about their bathroom chores in space?

The space agency thinks of everything and has provided for the spacemen's personal hygiene problems, although they aren't highly publicized.

ON LONG missions, like the eight-day flight by Gordon Cooper and Pete Conrad and the two-week trip planned for Frank Borman and Jim Lovell in December or January, the spacemen can't shave.

They brush their teeth without using toothpaste, using a standard type toothbrush which has a soft rubber tip at the end of the handle.

The Air Force has developed an edible toothpaste and it may get a space trial soon.

THE ASTRONAUTS "bathe" with two-inch squares of chemically-treated wet washcloths.

They urinate into a specially designed receiver with check valves to prevent backing up.

On the Gemini 5 flight all liquid wastes were discharged overboard in a fashion similar to the relief tube on an airplane. However, in space this involves opening and closing valves and using heaters to prevent freezing at the discharge nozzle.

ON THE two-week Gemini 7 flight, samples of each astronaut's urine will be brought back for analysis. The engineers said they don't have storage room for all the urine, so a sampling system using tritium, a radioactive isotope of hydrogen, was devised.

It is now being tested by four young men in a six-week space nutrition and hygiene study now under way at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

A MAN USES a container, then adds a tiny, measured amount of solution containing the tritium. After mixing, he valves a small amount into a storage tank while releasing most overboard.

After landing, technicians will be able to compute the total volume from radiation counter measurements of the tritium in the sample.

The Gemini space suits have a zipper that runs from the belt buckle area between the legs and up the back.

FOR ELIMINATION of solid wastes, the astronauts use a plastic bag coated around the top opening with a substance that sticks to the skin something like Scotch tape.

Pockets at the side of the bag hold tissues, an odor-killing germicide and a wash cloth. After using, the bags are closed with a drawstring-like arrangement and kept in a cold storage box for return to earth for medical analysis.—Jack Jones

"Painting for Fun" classes are in progress at the new studio and gallery opened by Andrew Gallano, local artist. Oil painting lessons in landscapes, seascapes and still life are conducted by Mr. Gallano, who is well known in this area for his painting of the New England landscape.

Classes are held in a converted barn which has been equipped with studio lighting and panelled for the hanging of canvases. Shown receiving instruction by the artist is Mrs. Shirley Cormier of Agawam, while Mrs. Mary Lou Cesan of Feeding Hills puts the finishing touches on her work.

Gallano, who has studied under W. Lester Stevens, member of the National Academy, and at the George Walter Vincent Smith Museum, has had one man showings of his work at the Cavanaugh Gallery, Agawam Junior High School and the Westfield Atheneum. He is a member of the Council of Academic Artists Association.

YOU AND YOUR INSURANCE

(A public service column about property and casualty insurance)

by KENNETH S. RAFFOL

PROTECT INVESTMENT IN PEDIGREE PETS

"Can I get insurance to protect an investment made in buying a pedigree dog?" a retired college professor wants to know.

A policy has been developed that will permit you to protect such an investment. Your agent will be able to explain the details of this coverage and can also provide information on the hospitalization insurance that is also available for canine members of the household, whether they are bluebloods or not.

While looking into these coverages, you may also find it worthwhile to review what liability insurance you have. The best-natured dog—whether show or just regular garden variety mixture—could get anti-social with a stranger in the neighborhood or even a teasing child and you could be faced with damage claims or a lawsuit.

If you already have a homeowners policy, this will protect you against such claims up the limits of the policy. If not, the same protection is available under a separate comprehensive personal liability policy.

Since the possibilities of financial loss are limited—in a sense—only by the number of people your pet comes in contact with—it's important to know how well you are protected against such hazards. A phone call to your agent can provide the answer.

This column will be glad to answer questions you may have

"The Tastiest Hamburgers in Town"

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

Damariscotta Lake Farm, junction of Routes 126 and 32, Jefferson, Me., was the headquarters for the New England Outdoor Writers' fall meeting.

George and Frances Cleaves, proprietors of the vacation spa, were our hosts. They certainly went overboard in making sure that the writer's every need was taken care of.

Bob Elliot, promotional director for the Economic and Development Commission of Maine, Ben Pike, Timber Industries of Maine, Dave Moreton, board member of the Outdoor Writers of America, Steve Stanton, representative for Remington Arms Co., and Bryan Jones of Bob Elliot's staff were the king pins behind the gathering and they are to be commended for the remarkable job they performed. The week-end went off without a hitch, and every writer (32) in attendance enjoyed themselves.

General Clayton Totman, retired Marine residing in nearby Waldoboro was instrumental in securing the best men available for guides. Every guide was an accomplished hunter and fisherman. Proof that they knew their stuff was very evident by the full game bags of the writers. Ransom Kelley, noted duck hunter, Lyndon Bond, Dean Jordan, George Bucknam, Ken Gray, photographer for the Division of Fish and Game and the Agriculture Department of Maine, Clyde Sukeforth, Bentley Glidden, George Soule, Spencer Gay, Roland Genther, Larry Woodcock, Gene Winchenback, and Phil and Larry Weston were most congenial and accepted their guiding roles graciously.

Ken Gray guided Larry Fountain, photographer, Ken Botty, news editor for the Worcester Gazette, and myself, Saturday morning. We hunted upland game with Ken's setter Pete. The dog knew his business and we all bagged our limit of pheasants. Although the woodcock were in abundance, we did not knock down a single bird.

After a dinner of fried chicken, potato salad, coffee, and cake, we discussed the possibility of going duck hunting for the rest of the day with our guide. He begged a few minutes in order to make a phone call, and to our delight reported that the arrangements had been made. We traveled from Jefferson to Dresden in record time. Ken introduced us to Mr. Steve Powell, a nationally known duck hunter and guide. Steve guided Governor Peabody a few years ago, and the Governor returned home with a different outlook on hunting and firearms in general.

Steve has blinds set up in various places in the bay, plus a few spots he can set up in a moments notice. It was one of the latter places that he chose to occupy that afternoon. Ken Gray took Larry Fountain and Ken Botty in one boat and set up in an established blind on the outer side of the river. Steve poled me very slowly through the brown grass trying to jump ducks that had landed in the rushes earlier.

Coming Into His Own

Reserve quarterback John Mikszewski, above (Agawam), a junior, has been seeing more action for the undefeated Springfield College football Maroons. Although Mikszewski has been getting the call late in the game, he has been doing a tremendous job for the Maroons who now stand 6-0 on the season. Passing at a near 50 percent clip, the 5'11, 175-pound Agawam native has completed 10 of 22 passes for 83 yards and scored one touchdown himself against Colby on a quarterback sneak.

"Satchmo" Steve's Labrador Retriever, sat very patiently in the stern of the boat waiting for the command to "fetch." The first bird to go up in front of us was a Snipe. It caught me napping and I missed it. The second bird was a black duck... I thought I hit it, but the bird dived into the water and disappeared. Steve claimed that it had submerged, and was holding onto the grass under water with just its beak protruding above water so it could breath. Satchmo searched very thoroughly but to no avail... the bird eluded capture.

The greatest thrills came after Steve put out his tollers (decoys) and snugged the boat in high grass. It wasn't long before eight green wing teal decided to land among the decoys. Just before setting down they spotted us and shot upward at great speed. Steve and I both shot and two ducks spiraled downward... Satchmo took over and fetched the ducks to the boat.

By the time the shooting hours ended, both had our limit. This episode of duck hunting on Merrymeeting Bay, Me., I won't forget. It is the first time I had duck hunted in such a manner, and the thrills experienced will be long remembered.

Fishing will do a lot for a man, but it won't make him truthful.

The Marine Corps Reserve and the citizens of Agawam, have been offered "a piece of the action" in Vietnam, Major D. R. Chapell, USMC, Inspector-Instructor of Company "C," 1st Battalion, 25th Marines, USMCR, Springfield, Mass., announced today.

This can be accomplished he said, through individual contributions to CARE in the name of the newly established "Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund for Vietnam."

"We of Company 'C' are initiating an all-out drive to secure donations to aid the Civic Action programs of our regular Marine forces in Vietnam," Major Chapell stated. "Any citizen or group in the Agawam area desiring to make donations in support of the program may obtain special envelopes for this purpose of calling RE 2-6981 or visiting the training center located at 211 Cass St., Springfield."

Money is not being collected by the Marines, Major Chapell emphasized. All donations are tax exempt and are on a voluntary and individual basis to CARE. This government-approved agency is already operating in Vietnam and is capable of efficiently handling donations, making purchases and providing transportation to Vietnam where the needed supplies will be turned over to the III Marine Amphibious Force for use in support of their civic action programs.

PROMENADERS

By Beryl and Doug Shaylor

"Square 'em up." The Agawam Promenaders will hold the second in their series of refresher classes this Thursday night, Nov. 4. Instructor will be Joe Prystupa and the class will be held at 8 p. m. at Robinson Park School. This brush-up course is being given to help people who have not danced recently to catch up on all the latest dance figures. The class is open to all former western square dancers regardless of any club affiliations.

A number of Promenaders travelled to Hazardville, Conn., this past Saturday to dance with the Powder Mill Puffers to caller Jerry Benoit. Those who made the trip had an enjoyable evening.

The next regular club dance will be Friday, Nov. 12, and will feature guest caller Eddie Vieira of New Bedford, Mass. Eddie is the regular caller for the Cape-way Promenaders of Fairhaven, Mass. Recently he has called at the New York World's Fair and at the New England Square Dance Convention. All area dancers are urged to come and hear this top-notch caller.

The secret is out! The hilarious "Nik Family" who disrupted the club's 10th Birthday Party last week were actually club members: Tino and Anita Davilli, Charlie and Vickie Donovan, Bob and Maddy Dugan and Joe and Lorraine Gasperini. Take off the masks folks, we know you!!!

Junior Grange Meet Saturday

Community Junior Grange No. 105 will hold its regular meeting at the Grange Home on Saturday, Nov. 6, at 2 o'clock. During the business meeting a rehearsal for the degree will take place. Applications from new members must be in at this meeting.

Prizes awarded at the State Grange Session last week will be presented as follows: Highway Safety Poster, 1st, Carol Goodwin; Agricultural Contest—Vegetables, 2nd, and Straw Flowers, 2nd, both awards to Peter Meyer. Programs for the year 1965-1966 will be available for the members.

Recreation and refreshments will complete the meeting, the former directed by the lecturer, Richard Allen, and the latter served by Susan Hamel and Marion White. In the absence of the regular Patron, Earl C. Bradway, the adults in charge will be Miss Florence Blish, Assistant Matron; Mrs. Hannah Binns, pianist; Mrs. Naida King, crafts; and Mrs. Rachel Williams, Home and Community Service.

Ann-Margret Frei portrays the role of "Alice" in the Ice Capades magical musical version of "Alice In Wonderland." Here she is seen with the steaming tea-pot which pulls the cup-and-saucer train, while the March Hare assists her. All of the characters from Lewis Carroll's famed fairy tale may be seen as just one of 9 great production numbers in this year's version of Ice Capades which will be at the Eastern States Coliseum, West Springfield, starting Thursday, Nov. 18th for a limited engagement.

DAVID C. GALLANO
Director of Veterans Services

Only six months remain for eligible veterans to take advantage of the reopening of GI life insurance, the Veterans Administration pointed out today.

Eligible veterans do not have to purchase the full $10,000 coverage. They may purchase as little as $1,000 or $2,000 worth of coverage if they find it a financial hardship to do more.

Eligible veterans who wish to may purchase as much as $10,000 worth of insurance if they have allowed their original policy to lapse entirely. Or they may buy sufficient insurance to bring the face value back to the $10,000 mark. But they do not have to purchase the insurance in these large amounts, the VA said.

J. Marion Aboard USS Isle Royale

USS ISLE ROYALE (AD-29) (FHTNC) — Radioman Third Class John A. Marion, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Marion of Shoemaker Lane, Agawam, participated in a ship-to-shore People-to-People Program while serving aboard the destroyer tender USS Isle Royale.

The mission of the program was to completely paint the Thomas Pippin Memorial Elementary School in Abucay, Bataan, Republic of the Philippines during port visits to Olongapo, P. I. between operations. The project began in September when he and his shipmates donated $550 and Commander, U. S. Seventh Fleet donated $300 to purchase the gear needed for the project.

Each weekend that Isle Royale was in port, approximately 50 men volunteered to work each day. The project was completed Oct. 17.

They must do this before May 2, 1966 when the enabling legislation expires. Policies will be issued for $1,000 and up in $500 steps such as $1,500, $2,000, $2,500, etc.

To purchase the insurance, the veteran must have been originally eligible for National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) between October 8, 1940 and January 1, 1957.

He must have either no GI insurance or less than $10,000 worth. The three eligible groups are:

(1) Veterans with service-connected disabilities who meet standards of good health.

(2) Veterans who service-connected disabilities alone do not permit them to meet standards of good health.

(3) Veterans whose non-service-connected disabilities as of October 13, 1964, (the date the bill became law) prevented them from buying commercial insurance at the highest rates.

The new policies carry low non-dividend premiums which compare favorably with the net cost of World War II GI insurance. Any VA office will supply information and application forms.

SOCIAL SECURITY
Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF
LABOR, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION
OCTOBER 1965

Q. I am a minister who has never elected social security coverage. Is it too late to do anything about it?

A. No. The new amendments extend the time within which you may elect coverage by filing a waiver certificate with Internal Revenue Service until April 15, 1966.

Q. Can a divorced wife receive benefits on her ex-husband's social security record?

A. It is possible under the new amendments if she is at least age 62 (age 60 if a survivor), unmarried, was married to the wage earner 20 years and meets certain support requirements. Visit your social security district office for further details.

Q. My mother is 81 and worked one year under social security. Is there a chance she might qualify for benefits now?

A. Yes. Have her file a claim immediately. Under the new law,

Gamelli To Train
At Lowry AFB, Colo.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Airman Richard J. Gamelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gamelli of Silver Lake Dr., Agawam, has certain persons 72 or over may qualify for benefits with fewer quarters of coverage.

Q. I'm a waitress. When will my tips be covered for social security purposes?

A. Cash tips of $20 or more from one place of employment will be reportable for social security purposes beginning in January 1966. A pamphlet "Tips as Wages" is available in your social security office.

Q. I filed for widow's benefits last year at age 62. This year I became disabled. Can I now file for disability benefits on my own record?

A. Yes. Under the new law it is possible for you to become entitled to disability benefits based on your own earnings, even though you were previously receiving widow's benefits.

Q. I understand I can earn more money this year and still get all of my benefits. Is this so?

A. No. The amount a benefici-ciary may earn in 1965 and still receive all benefits for the year is still $1200. However, beginning in 1966 he may earn $1500 and still receive all benefits.

Q. Is it true that a widow may now get social security benefits on her deceased husband's account at age 60?

A. Yes. These benefits will be reduced from what she would have received at age 62. This is because benefits will be paid over a longer period of time.

Q. I received social security disability benefits. My wife and daughter were entitled until February when my daughter became age 18. I understand that my daughter can get benefits again as a student under age 22. Does this mean that my wife can get benefits again, also?

A. No. A wife is eligible only if she is age 62 or has a child under age 18 (or a disabled child) in her care who is receiving benefits. Benefits cannot be paid a mother whose only child receives benefits after 18 because he attends school.

Q. I get social security and work part-time. How much can I earn before any of my benefits are withheld?

A. If you work in 1965, you can earn up to $1200 and still get benefits for all months. However, beginning with 1966, this has been raised to $1500.
